

Commission Query

Can't quite find the perfect piece for that awkward space above the fireplace? Looking for a portrait of your beloved pooch? Or maybe an artwork has already caught your eye, but it's not quite the right size or colour.

Your Vision

A custom work of art is a collaborative process that starts with you. For the questions below, feel free to describe, include links, share a Pinterest board, or photos! Don't worry if you don't have answers for each of these or if you can't fully visualise it yet – thinking and talking through these will make a great starting point. And remember, this is a dialogue, not a commitment. We'll only move forward if you're comfortable.

1. What work of mine have you seen that you like?

2. What overall size and shape were you considering?

3. Do you have a photo or a subject you'd like to use as inspiration?

4. What colours or mood would you like this piece to capture?

5. Is there a story or emotion you'd like me to think about while working?

6. How much would you like to invest in this piece?

Add an amount or range - this is just to get a sense of what you're envisioning. We will decide a final amount and discuss any possible payment plans and methods before moving forward.

7. If you were to agree to this project, when would you like to get started?
